

BRITISH
Advance in Thibet is Characterized

AS A BOLD MOVE AGAINST THE RUSSIANS

Baltic Fleet to Start for Far East in July.

JAP. SPIES NEAR LAKE BAIKAL.

Preparations Made by Russians to Give the Japanese a Warm Reception at Port Arthur

St. Petersburg, April 4.—The Novoye Vremya and Suet today comment on the British advance in Thibet, characterizing it as a bold move against Russia.

St. Petersburg, April 4.—The lifting of the censorship on outgoing telegrams has not relieved the situation to any degree. It is true that telegrams are permitted to pass unread, but copies of the dispatches are kept and read by the censor, who has, on several occasions, called the correspondents up for a lecture. In the case of one Englishman who had telegraphed to a London paper stories of Englishmen being insulted in Russia, more stringent measures were taken. He was twice lectured for his dispatches and then politely advised to leave the country. This he did yesterday.

Odessa, April 4.—The Gazette today publishes a decree which has been issued to editors informing them that all who publish false reports, will be punished by being sentenced to pay a fine of 500 roubles and to serve three months in prison. This decree refers to both news regarding the war and Jewish disturbances.

St. Petersburg, April 4.—The Czar has decided that the Baltic fleet will sail for the far East on July 15, at the latest. It is stated that Great Britain has sent a message of assurance that the fleet will be allowed to pass through the Suez canal. The ice on Lake Baikal has begun to break up. Gaps of 40 yards are appearing in many places.

Port Arthur, April 4.—A dispatch received today reports that spies with maps and notes have been captured at several points in eastern Siberia in the direction of Lake Baikal. This leads to the belief that the Japanese are ambitious to extend their invasion as far as the lake.

Port Arthur, April 4.—Preparations have been made to give the Japanese a warm reception in case they again attempt to blockade the harbor.

Vice Admiral Togo was right in surmising that Vice Admiral Makarov is responsible for the change in Russian naval tactics and for the inspiration of Russian seamen.

A signal man named Andronsenko, who during the bombardment of Vladivostok, remained at a small signal station on Askold island, near the enemy's ships, and wired information of their movements to the fortress, has been decorated with the cross of St. George.

SLAUGHTER

Of Thibetans Unwelcome News in England—The British People do Not Want Another War.

London, April 4.—The slaughter of the Thibetans entirely kills such warring interest as still exists here in the Japanese-Russian struggle. The news of the wholesale bloodshed excites, as a general rule, a feeling of depression, first, because the average Englishman scarcely sees that it was necessary, and secondly, because there is a general apprehension that it may lead to complications with Russia.

The last thing the British public waits at the present moment is another war, and what is most dreaded is a rise in the income tax. Hence the tragic events in far Thibet are especially unwelcome at this period, when the taxpayer is nervously waiting to see how he will be called on to pay off the national deficit.

The extreme Liberal papers seized on the slaughter at Guru as one of the worst blots on the history of England. The Daily News declared that no more "wanton or discreditable business has been brewed by our pro-consuls in India since the time of Lord Lytton." Other papers of the same political views describe Colonel Younghusband's mission as another Jameson raid.

COMMITTEE

Meets at St. Louis to Arrange for the Democratic National Convention
Next July.

St. Louis, April 4.—The committee on arrangements of the Democratic National Committee met at 10 o'clock this morning at the Southern hotel. Everything possible has been arranged for the expedition of business by the committee and it is probable that its work will be completed within two days. Senator Jones of Arkansas was in the chair and C. A. Walsh of Iowa, acted as secretary. All committeemen are present. The question of the allotment of seats is probably the most troublesome question before the committee. Innumerable requests for seats have come to the committee, owing to the World's fair. The committee will visit the coliseum and agree finally on the arrangements.

Gas Case Decided.

Washington, April 4.—In the case of the Peoples' Gas Company vs. the city of Chicago, the Supreme court today sustained the right of the city to demand 15 cent gas. The appeal of the Peoples' company was dismissed. Chief Justice Fuller delivered the opinion of the court.

Five Babies.

Dennison, Texas, April 4.—Mrs. May Bradley, wife of a ranchman living near Kiowa, I. T., it is reported, has become the mother of five children, each weighing seven pounds. The children are healthy and strong.

FATAL FIGHT

AT CLOSE OF A DANCE OVER IN COSHOCOTON COUNTY.

Fred Mobley Mortally Wounded and Five Others Badly Hurt—Coshocton Man's Flying Leap.

Coshocoton, O., April 4.—A country dance at Rock Run broke up in an awful fight and Fred Mobley is perhaps fatally wounded by a shot, said to have been fired by Ben Moore. Five others are badly hurt.

Leaped from a Fast Train.

Coshocoton, O., April 4.—John Schumaker leaped from a Wheeling train at Morgan Run while going at a rate of forty miles an hour. He was little hurt and got up and walked away.

HEALTH BOARD

Monday Reports That There are No
Diseases in Town Which Require a Quarantine.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Health was held Monday afternoon in the city building and much routine business was transacted. There are now no smallpox cases, and no contagious diseases requiring quarantine.

Dr. H. Day, Health Officer, made his monthly report Monday as follows:

Deaths 47; contagious diseases 10; births 30; fumigations 25; examinations (physical) fire and police department 9; vaults cleaned 10.

Sunflowers make good fuel. The stalks when dry are as hard as maple wood and make a good fire, and the seedheads, with the seeds in, are said to burn better than the best hard coal.

The basis of most indelible inks is the ordinary nitrate of silver.

PARKER
Seems to be Choice--New York World Makes Canvass.

New York, April 4.—If a newspaper canvass made through telegrams to men who ought to know, counts for anything, the National Democratic convention in St. Louis will develop into a big ratification meeting for Judge Parker. The World sent telegrams by the score to test the sentiment of Democrats for Parker and the indications are that he will have 800 of 1,000 delegates in the National convention.

WOMAN CLUNG TO THE TRAIN

Finally Rescued After a Wild Ride.

Attempted to Climb Over Train Which Blocked Track—It Started—She Couldn't Jump Off.

Louisville, Ky., April 4.—Dangling helplessly from the side of a box car, high above the angry Ohio river, unable to make her screams for help heard above the roaring of the wind and the noise of the rapidly moving train, Mrs. Ella Lyden, living at 705 Fulton street, was carried by a Big Four freight train from Jackson and Washington streets, Louisville, all the way over the viaduct and the Big Four bridge crossing the river from Louisville to Jeffersonville about midnight.

Fearing that her hold on the iron steps of the ladder leading to the top of the swaying car would loosen and she would either be ground to death beneath the iron wheels or drop into the Ohio river, Mrs. Lyden endeavored to swing herself upward to the step on the car. Directly underneath the lower rung of the ladder to which she was holding her feet were dragging on the trestle work until her shoes were torn off.

She was prostrated from the nervous shock when she was rescued from her perilous position on the Indiana side of the river.

But for the presence of mind of T. I. Weaver, the operator at the Louisville end of the bridge, who noticed the woman hanging to the side of the car as the long train sped past his office, Mrs. Lyden would have been carried by the train until her strength deserting her she would have fallen under the wheels to be crushed to death.

Weaver promptly telegraphed to the operator on the Indiana side of the big bridge that a woman was hanging helplessly from the side of a car, telling him to stop the train and rescue her from her perilous position.

While Mrs. Lyden was returning to her home from her work the Big Four train on which she took her wild ride blocked the crossing of the railroad at Jackson and Washington streets. She attempted to climb over the train and when it started she could not get off.

Mack & Co. Suspend.

New York, April 4.—The suspension of W. B. Mack & Co., was announced on the stock exchange this morning. The failure of W. B. Mack & Co. is said to be due to large commitments on the short side of Union Pacific and to some outside personal contracts. In their statement to the stock exchange the firm state that the suspension will be only temporary.

CANAL BILL

New Measures for Leasing Banks to be Introduced.

Columbus, O., April 4.—From Cincinnati friends of the canal comes a report that another canal bill, framed in Cleveland, will be introduced in the House this week. The new bill will provide for the leasing of the canal banks, but upon what conditions is not yet stated. Recently there was a good deal of speculative buying of electric mule bonds by certain Cleveland interests said to be behind this bill.

BELIEF
Grows That Westbrook
Was Murdered

WELL DEFINED HOLE FOUND
IN THE MAN'S HEAD

The Coroner's Inquest is Now
in Progress.

WAS SEEN AT A LONELY PLACE

In Company With Two Men—The Identity of Those Two Men is No w Known.

Delaware, O., April 4.—The belief that Shedrock Westbrook, the Ashley farmer, whose dead body was found Saturday in a cornfield north of town, where it had been swept by the high waters of the Olentangy, was murdered is gaining much credence.

Although the corpse is badly decomposed, a well defined hole can readily be seen in the back of the head and the inflicting of this would evidently cause his death. Westbrook, it was learned this morning at the coroner's inquest, had been drinking on the night he disappeared.

He was later seen in company with two men at a lonely place about a mile from town. Later, it is alleged, the men seen with Westbrook returned to Cardington and hired a lively rig. The rig was returned late that night and it is said, the men insisted upon it being washed at once.

The coroner did not take to heart at that time of night so it is claimed, the parties themselves gave it a thorough scrubbing out. The identity of these men is known, but in the past few days one of them is said to have disappeared. The inquest which was begun Saturday afternoon is being continued today at Cardington.

HEAVY

Fighting in Africa Where Many Were Killed or Wounded.

London, April 4.—(Bulletin)—News has reached London of heavy fighting in Nigeria, West Africa, in which a British square was broken and many soldiers killed and wounded.

The Nigerian force was a British punitive expedition organized by Sir Frederick Lugard against the murderers of Captain O'Riordan and C. Amayatt Burney, who were ambushed by Okpotos in 1903.

Reuters Telegram company, reporting the fight, says the enemy worked their way into the hollow square formed by the punitive force and killed many of the native troops.

Nigeria is in West Africa on the north coast of the gulf of Guinea.

Gen. Rice is Dead.

Washington, April 4.—Gen. Americus V. Rice, former congressman from Ohio, died here at noon today after a protracted illness, aged 69. He was born at Perryville, O., and served in the Civil war with much gallantry. He entered as a private, finishing as a brigadier general.

Three Killed.

Marshalltown, Iowa, April 4.—An explosion in the Citizens' National Bank building at Abbia Sunday caused the death of R. Ramsey, Edward Boughty and Richard Grimes. Several others were badly injured. The loss is $75,000.

Blaze at Rankin, Pa.

Pittsburgh, April 4.—The nail department of the American Steel and Wire company's plant at Rankin was destroyed by fire this morning. Loss, $200,000.

CROP
Report Shows Poor Condition of Wheat--Fewer Acres Sown.

Columbus, April 4.—The monthly crop report of the State Board of Agriculture, issued today, shows that the condition of Ohio wheat April first was only 67 per cent of an average condition for this time of the year. Aside from the poor condition, 124,848 fewer acres in Ohio were sown last fall than the fall previous. Farm hands are reported scarcer. The larger problem is a very serious one with the farmers. Little damage was done to fruit buds by the winter except to the very early fruits.

SUPREME COURT
SUSTAINS HEARST

Court Below is Overruled, Case Remanded.

Testimony Desired in Coal Case Was Relevant, Say the Supreme Judges.

Washington, April 4.—The Supreme Court of the United States today decided that feature of W. R. Hearst's case against the anthracite coal carrying companies which endeavors to force a ruling of the interstate commerce commission requiring witnesses, officials of the roads in question, to present certain papers and records, access to which was decided. The Court decided that the right of direct appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States in such cases does exist and that it therefore took the case. It further decided that the commission had the right to take up the case, although Hearst, the complainant, could show no financial and direct interest in the proceedings. The important part of the ruling is that the testimony desired was relevant and that the contracts desired should have been put in evidence. They had legitimate bearing on the controversy. That part of the anti-trust act which exempts the testimony given from being used to convict of crime make it especially proper to demand the testimony. The adverse decision of the court below is overruled and the case remanded for hearing in conformity with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States. Mr. Hearst's contentions are maintained in every particular.

Dispatches Bringing Important News
at the Last Hour of the Afternoon

Washington, April 4.—The Swayne impeachment resolution will be the feature of the proceedings in the house this week.

Washington, April 4.—The early part of the present week will be devoted to the postoffice appropriation bill and when that measure is disposed of the Panama canal bill will be taken up.

Washington, April 4.—Ambassador McCormick wires from St. Petersburg that reports of anti-Jewish demonstrations at Odessa are largely unfounded. The Hebrews are nervous but he is convinced that the authorities will be able to maintain order.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 4.—The seventeen indictments returned by the grand jury Saturday night, are directed against ten men. They are based on alleged illegal acts in connection with the erection of the county hospital. The original estimate on the cost of the building was $4,000. The building already cost $175,000, and is not yet completed.

Washington April 4.—The Department of Commerce and Labor is urging American merchants to start a "floating exposition" around the world in emulation of a similar enterprise organized by British business men.

According to advices received by the department, the English floating fair will start from London on April 27. The steamer Lake Megatic, a 5,500 ton ship, has been fitted out for the purpose and space provided for 150 exhibitions. The Lake Megatic will touch Halifax first and after visiting Canada will go to Australia, New Zealand, Brazil and West Africa.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 4.—While a fashionable congregation was devoting itself to Easter services in Gethsemane Episcopal church Sunday, 30 choir boys were writhing in the agony of a mysterious poisoning in the choir room. Several may die. Sixty members of the choir had taken part in the early morning service and afterwards breakfast was served them by the Ladies' Guild. Three of the boys are now in a hospital seriously ill. Others were taken to their homes. The illness is traced to the breakfast, but the direct cause is not yet ascertained.

Clifton Forge, Va., April 4.—Robert Bowles, the negro brakeman who shot and killed Fireman John A. Ruff in the yards at this place on March 21, was arrested near Durban, W. Va., on Sunday.

Salt Lake, Utah, April 4.—President Joseph F. Smith was upheld at the general conference of the Mormon church Sunday for his stand at Washington, declaring he intended to continue to live with his plural wives.

St. Paul, Minn., April 4.—Attorneys for the defendants in the Northern Pacific suit brought by Harriman and Pierce admit that a war for control of that road is on among the millionaires.

Houston, Texas, April 4.—Herman Tetze, a wealthy citizen and a stranger, entered a cab last midnight to be driven to Tetze's home. Arriving there the cabman found Tetze dead and the other man unconscious. Both were sitting rigidly upright. The stranger was revived by a physician but has mysteriously disappeared. The police are mystified. Tetze's body shows the effects of some powerful poison.

Boston, April 4.—An arrest is promised in the Miss Page murder mystery today. According to the police their suspicion now rests upon the shoulders of a woman who was a friend of the Page family and who bore a fancied grievance against the young woman.

ORE

Found In Montana Mine
May Have a Trace of Radium.

Butte, Mont., April 4.—A report was received today from the Currie laboratory in Paris by Dr. G. D. Bryant, on the qualities of peculiar ore found in several Butte mines and which local miners long have claimed they use for the cure of many diseases by carrying bits of the ore in their pockets. The Curries say the ore may contain a trace of radium, but they cannot account for other peculiarities and that the mineral is unknown and unclassified. Dr. Bryant says by many experiments he had verified the claims of the miners and believes that violet rays emitted by the ore give out the alleged curative qualities. Ex-Governor Spriggs has also been experimenting with the ore with strange results.

The surplus wheat of South Australia available for export is estimated at $500,000 bushels.

In 12 marriages out of every 100 one of the parties has been married before. Radium emanations make the skin phosphorescent, and long exposure to them inflames it.

The Agent General for Tasmania says that the fruit harvest in Australia and Tasmania is very promising this season.

At the Church of the Sacred Heart in Paris, a 22-ton bell is tolled by electricity. A choir boy does the work, which formerly required the services of five men.

As a result of several students at Missouri University, Columbia, having tried with good results using on only two meals a day 250 of the students have now decided to leave out their midday dinner for the next four months and note the effect.

FEAR
Of Lake Banks Breaking is Now Over

THE C. H. & D. RAILROAD HAS MUCH TRACK WASHED OUT

Lewiston Reservoir Bank Did
Not Give Way.

A SLIGHT BREAK DID NO HARM.

Timbers Which Have Been in Position
for Eleven Years Will be Replaced Soon.

Celina, O., April 4.—All fear of either bank of Lake Mercer giving away is over unless much more rain should fall. The water is still flowing over the waste weir. Beaver and Wabash lowlands are under water. Mendon has been cut off from railroad service since last Thursday. The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad has two miles of track washed out near there. Bellefontaine, April 4.—The levees of the Lewiston reservoir although weak in many places, did not give way, although waves three feet high swept over the embankments. The slight break in the waste weir caused by one of the heavy timber sections dropping from its position did no damage. The timbers of the weir have been in position 11 years and are rotten. They will be replaced by the state board of public works. The danger of a break is at an end.

DANGER IS PAST
Grand Reservoir Intact at St. Mary's—
Thousands Visit Scene.

St. Mary's, O., April 4.—Unless a heavy wind or rainstorm sets in within the next two or three days, the Grand Reservoir will not go out either at the east or west end. The drying out of the wind of the past two days and nights caused a cessation of the waves which, beating against the banks, threatened to eat their way through. People living in the vicinity of the weakened spots, being reassured, have returned to the homes they left when the danger was threatening. Thousands of visitors from all parts of the state came here Sunday to view the work of the storm. So many came that all the electric and steam roads had to put on extra trains.

One fisherman's house, standing on the bank of the reservoir, fell into the water as a tunnel under it had been worn during the storm. The Standard Oil company, which has large interests in the oil fields in Ohio and Indiana, will have sentries out until all possibility of further danger has passed. Hundreds of their wells in this vicinity would be flooded should the waters go out. It is thought that it will take several months' work to repair the damage done to the earthen walls of the great lake.

FOR LICKING CO. FARMERS

Another Method of Treating for Smut-Asparagus Raising--Possibilities in Tomatoes--"When the Green Gets Back."

Treating Oats for Smut.

Last week the Advocate gave the method ordinarily used in treating oats for smut. A Wisconsin farmer reports his method as follows: Two or three kerosene or other tight barrels, with holes bored near the center in the bottom, are used. The oats are placed in the barrels and the formaline solution poured over them; the surplus liquid drains off and can be used for treating the next barrel. This method requires more of the solution, but it saves time, which is valuable at this season of the year.

Asparagus.

This is the standard early vegetable in the cities and large areas are devoted to its cultivation. Very few farmers have even a moderate supply, often a clump growing in the garden or on the lawn for ornamental purposes. Considering the ease with which it is grown, its earliness, coming at a season when many a housewife complains of a lack of variety in the bill of fare, and its immense productivity, there seems no good reason why every farm should not be supplied with a liberal amount of it. The best location is a sandy, southern slope, but if this is not available any good soil will do, only it will not start so early in the spring. It should be planted where it is to remain permanently as it does not bear moving well. Set the plants with their crowns four or five inches under the surface of the soil and do not cut any the first season. Any of the standard varieties are good and are worth planting. Don't set less than 50 plants; 100 would be better, as some of them will be seed bearing plants, and consequently not very productive.

Tomato Raising.

The following from "Successful Farming" written by Mrs. Cora B. Williams, of Deshler, O., will be interesting to farmers of Licking county:

We find raising good tomatoes for both early and late markets a good way to make money, as a small plot of ground set to tomatoes, when well cared for, will bring an owner a satisfactory profit. A piece of ground 50 by 40 feet planted to tomatoes and well cultivated will bring more profit than one acre of wheat or oats. Select a good standard variety of seed and sow it in drills six inches apart running north and south that the sun may permeate the young plants in the bed. When the plants are about two inches high we pull them carefully and transplant in the hot bed and leave them uncovered, except in case of freezing nights or storms. We transplanted them twice before finally setting them in the garden as this method gives the plants large, strong roots. They are not transplanted to the garden until all danger of frost is over, which is quite late for our locality. We prefer having our plants larger, even to the budding stage. They are then carefully lifted and placed in deep holes dug four feet apart each way. A little soft water is supplied to the roots before the soil is pressed about the plants. We cultivate the tomato plants thoroughly with the garden hoe until the first fruit has set. The method of tying the tomato plants to stakes is very good. When this is done, the plants may be set quite close together. The plants are attached to strong stakes by means of twine at different stages of growth and then when the fruit ripens it is beautifully clean and nice to handle. Our early tomatoes bring from seventy-five cents to one dollar and a half per bushel and the late ones, although generally quite low in price, are greatly in demand for canning purposes, while the green ones which are left late in the fall often find a good demand at reasonable prices for use in pickling.

When the Green Gets Back.
In the spring when the green gets back in the trees.
And the sun comes out and stays.
And your boots pull on with a tight squeeze,
And you think of your barefoot days;
When you ort to work and you want to not,
And you and your wife agrees
It's time to spade the garden lot—
When the green gets back in the trees—
Well, work is the least of my ideas
When the green, you know, gets back on the trees.
When the green gets back on the trees and bees
Is a buzzin' round agin,
In that kind of a "lazy-go-as-you-please"
Old gait they hum round in;
When the ground's all bald, where the hay rick stood.
And the crows' rix, and the breeze
Coaxes the bloom in the old dogwood
And the green gets back in the trees I like, I say, in such scenes as these
The time when the green gets back on the trees.

A RELIEF.

You prize the friend that prides himself on being frank and true. Who talks about your faults, however it may hurt him and you. You know that it's his sort on whom you're likeliest to depend. When troubles overcast the sky and bitter tears descend. But, just the same, you sometimes wish that he could comprehend. That no one finds perfection—no, not even in a friend—And though you vow you want the truth, and want it good and strong. You kind of like the fellow who will jolly you along.

You kind of like the bird that sings a song of careless cheer: You kind of like the flowers that blossom idly, far and near: You kind of like the merry rhyme whose strains so idly fall: You kind of like a lot of things that are no good at all. But there is just one fact that stands out palpable and clear—The thoughtless smile is always better than the thoughtful sneer. And so many folks are ready to remind you when you're wrong. That you kind of like the fellow who will jolly you along.

Careful Illustration.

The kindergarten teacher had asked her pupils to draw pictures illustrating some song with which they were familiar. After considerable labor one of the children came forward with a sheet of paper covered by delightfully calligraphic designs. The composition of the picture consisted of three rude buckets, ranged in order, the crude representation of a well and a series of dots or spots made with the point of a pencil.

"What is this?" asked the teacher, pointing to the first pail.

"That," said the young artist, "is the old broken bucket. The next is the iron bucket. The last one's the mess covered bucket, and this is the well."

"And what are these dots?"

"Oh, you know! They're the spots that my infancy knew!"—Philadelphia Press.

A Leap Year Proposal.
A white haired, infirm old man boarded a crowded Broadway car and laboriously edged his way inside. Not a seat was vacant, and every strap supported a passenger. The old man stood wedged between the standing folk, and for a time no person paid any attention to him.

A beautiful little girl, whose golden hair fell in waves over her velvet coat, sat in the car beside her mother. She noticed the old man and without a word to her mother rose and gently plucked the sleeve of the old man's coat.

"Won't you take my seat?" she said. The old man looked at her and hesitated for a moment. Then he bared his snowy head and bowed with all the courtesy of the old school.

Life of Officers Stationed in Russian Asia.

FULL OF ADVENTURE AND PERIL.

Chief Occupations of the Officers Consist in Hunting Brigands, Fighting Wolves and Waging Small Wars Against Unruly Natives—Despite Rigors of Climate and Their Lonely Life, Social Amenities Are Not Neglected.

There are no soldiers in the world who get a finer training for the rough game of war than the czar's officers who are scattered over thousands of lonely outposts throughout Russian Asia, says a writer in the New York Post. Siberia, the Caucasus, central Asia and Manchuria are four vast training grounds for the czar's legions. The number of garrisons, large and small, distributed over those immense territories runs well into the thousands. At some important points, like Irkutsk, Khiva, Blagoveshchensk, Petrovsk, Harbin and Askaniya, large bodies of troops are kept, and the life of the officers and men is much like that of soldiers in other military posts. It is at the small posts, where a couple of officers and fifty or a hundred men are stationed, that adventures occur almost as regularly as the rising and the setting of the sun, and it is there that the finest training is gained.

Imagine a remote outpost in the center of a desolate steppe, where the monotony of rock and sand is unbroken for several days' journey save by the skeletons of horses, camels and men who have perished in trying to cross it, or in the midst of a dense forest thickly clad in ice and snow for the greater part of the year and haunted by flocks of ravenous wolves and still fiercer men—convicts escaped from the lead mines, who would dare any danger and commit any crime rather than return to the chain gang and the knout. It is the sport of the officers at the outpost to slay the wolves, though the quarry, numerous and starved, is more terrible than the fiercest Bengal tiger. It is their duty to track down the escaped convicts and their pride to try to capture them single handed without the help of their men.

The lonely, adventurous life they lead makes daredevils of even the quietest of these men. I knew a lieutenant who commanded at a remote post on the banks of the Amur. He was a student at the military academy with me and a quieter, more studious fellow could hardly be imagined. He could seldom be induced to join in the field sports and athletic exercises.

Years afterward I visited him at his outpost and found him a changed man. The dreamy look had gone from his face; he had the eye of a leader of men, the eye of the man who had looked death in the face a hundred times without flinching. There were hardly a dozen books in his quarters, but there were plenty of guns, saddles, fishing rods and hunting knives.

After dinner, as we sat over our cigars and vodka, we heard the howling of a great pack of wolves in the forest which struggled to within half a mile of the post. My host had been interested in my light chatter about old friends in St. Petersburg and Moscow, but when he heard the wolves he became strangely excited and could hardly listen to what I was saying. At last he rose and said: "It's no good, my friend; I cannot resist. I must go to them!" And he shouted to his servant to harness the dogs to his sleigh.

"Are you mad?" I cried. "Surely you are not going out to the wolves in the forest?"

"I can't help it," he replied in the most matter of fact tone. "Whenever I hear them howling it seems to me a challenge, and every nerve in my body is on edge to respond. Last winter they killed my best sergeant, and since then I have gone out to kill a few of them whenever I have heard them howling like this at night. Pardon my rudeness in leaving you. I will be back in a short time—possibly. If you want anything ring for Ivan."

Imagine the madness of it! Of course I couldn't let him go alone, so I picked out a rifle and a revolver from his armory and insisted on taking my place in the sleigh beside him. He drove over the snowclad meadows to within a hundred yards of the outer edge of the forest. Then he pulled up the trembling dogs and waited. Pretty soon we saw dozens of shadowy gray forms skulking out from the blackness of the trees on to the moonlit snow. We fired at them, and almost before the reports of our rifles had died away the whole pack was upon us.

Quick as lightning my friend dropped his gun, shook out the reins and flung the dogs until they literally flew to ward home, fear spurring them far more than the whip. The foremost wolves of the pack were within a few feet of the rear of the sleigh, and although we shot them down as fast as we could fire our rifles the rest were not halted by the massacre. They gained on us rapidly, and as we neared the fort they were swarming all around the sleigh and had actually pulled down one of the leading dogs. But a crowd of soldiers rushed out with torches and rifles and fired a volley which put them to flight just in time to save our lives.

"Does your master often do this?" I asked my friend's servant.

"Yes, sir," he replied. "He generally goes out whenever he hears the wolves at night. Look here, sir!" And he opened a cupboard and showed me rows upon rows of wolves' tails. There were sixty-eight of them. "He killed

all these this winter," the servant added.

In the frosty Caucasus, on remote station near the Kurdistan border, the officers have rare sport hunting brigands when they are not out after big game. The Kurds are fond of raiding over the border line and have no objection to murdering a stray Cossack when they catch one. One officer taught them a lesson. He made a vow to kill ten Kurds for every Cossack slain in his command. When Prince Demidoff, the famous Caucasian hunter, visited that post he found that the score was seven Cossacks and seventy Kurds. "We don't have much trouble with them now," the officer grimly remarked to his visitor.

Although their lives are so full of adventure, it must not be supposed that the officers on these lonely outposts are rough, uncouth men. On the contrary, they practice in their tiny social circle all the amenities of civilized life and even observe the elaborate etiquette of the Russian nobility in all its infinite detail. Many of them are married and their wives and families live with them. They have, perhaps, not seen a city for five years, but they get books and newspapers at long intervals and keep up as well as they can with the affairs of the great world.

"I have spent many an evening in isolated military posts hundreds of miles from the nearest town and perhaps fifty miles from even a telegraph station," said a Russian officer who rode on horseback through Siberia, "and the society was so refined and even brilliant that I almost imagined I was in St. Petersburg. I remember one such post in particular, on the fringe of the Pamirs. It was the nearest Russian post at that time to the Indian frontier. There were three officers there, two of whom were married and living with their wives in that desolate waste. They were ladies of noble birth and the best social experience. They had lived in court circles at St. Petersburg and Moscow and were familiar with the society of Vienna and Paris. Yet they cheerfully buried themselves alive there in order to be with their husbands. Their children were being educated in Russia."

"I think they spent a happy life. They went hunting a good deal with their husbands. The commandant showed me the biggest bearskin I had ever seen and told me that his wife killed the brute single handed. The other lady was a fine artist."

"In the evenings they had a jolly time. They invited one another to dinner as formally as if they had lived a mile apart in a big city, and they gave pleasant little dances, card parties and musical soirees. Although they knew one another so well, they never relaxed the formal etiquette usual among married officers and their wives in the Russian service. I chafed the commandant about this once, but he replied:

"If we did we should quarrel and be flying at one another's throats in less than a week. You have no idea how such solitude as this gets upon one's nerves. Your only salvation is to play that you are living in the midst of a big society."

"The work of the officers was interesting and dangerous. They were there mainly as diplomats and secret service agents among the tribes living around the Pamirs. They surveyed the mountain ranges and mapped out routes by which armies could cross them, and they traveled among the tribes, seeking to persuade the headmen that it was to their interest to become allies of Russia and fight for her whenever a clash came with England. Sometimes they were away from the fort for weeks and months on these dangerous expeditions, and you can imagine the terrible anxiety their wives suffered. The wife of a Russian outpost officer needs to be a woman of high courage and infinite capacity for self sacrifice."

Like the English on the frontiers of India, the Russians in half a dozen parts of Asia are constantly engaged in "little wars" of which the world hears nothing. Even now that the Transcasian railway has been run through Russian Turkestan to the borders of Afghanistan tribal feuds and petty uprisings are not infrequent among the Moslem tribes of central Asia. They usually begin through "cattle lifting" or "camel lifting" by one tribe in another's territory.

It is the business of the Russian outpost officer to suppress promptly these lawless manifestations before they reach a point where they can be dignified by the name of war. He must strike quickly and strike hard in order to teach the tribesmen to respect the peace of the czar. Above all, he must never be defeated, for that would lead to a rapid extension of the rising, and it would become necessary to dispatch a large expedition, with all the attendant publicity so distasteful to the Russian government.

For this reason the troops kept at the outposts in the danger zones are always of the most mobile kind. Usually they are Cossacks, who can always be depended on to ride day and night for a week if necessary and fight like furies at the end of that time. Even if a Cossack is a coward at heart, a rare case, he dares not show the white feather. If he refused to go to war when the czar sent the "fery cross"—a large strip of red cloth—to the Cossack villages his own wife and mother would put out his eyes, and if he showed the slightest trace of cowardice in action his comrades would kill him.

The Tunguses, the most warlike of the Eskimos of Siberia, often give trouble, and small expeditions have to be unobtrusively dispatched against them. This kind of warfare gives the Russian officer fine training in the art of conducting a hard campaign, in which it is necessary to march troops long distances over frozen ground and supply them with food in a region where little or no food can be locally obtained.

NERVOUS AND DESPONDENT

Mrs. Brockette Sought in Vain For Relief By Travel In Foreign Countries

Every nervous, debilitated woman should read this letter of Mrs. R. T. Brockette, a New York lady prominent in American and foreign social circles:

"I have received so much benefit from the use of your Mucu-Tone that I feel I ought not to hesitate in an acknowledgment of my debt to you. In 1900 I went abroad for my health, spending three years in France, Switzerland, Italy, Holland and England. I was quite weak, and the slightest effort brought on a fit of trembling, so that I had to travel very leisurely. I took the opportunity to consult several good physicians in Paris and London, but the benefit I received from their treatment was but slight and temporary. Returning to New York last fall, I found myself still an invalid. My appetite failed, I could not sleep, I had severe headaches and the result of any little shopping trip was always complete prostration. The doctors thought me suffering from nervous debility and malnutrition."

"A short time ago a friend recommended your Rexall Mucu-Tone to me very highly. I had never thought of using a 'patent medicine,' having a natural prejudice against them. But I was so weak and sick and my friend's belief in the medicine so strong that I bought my first bottle of Mucu-Tone then and there.

"Since then I have bought four other bottles and am practically a well woman. I eat heartily, sleep soundly, and am no longer nervous and pale, and a hearty, active woman. If my case was as the doctors said, one of nervous debility and malnutrition, then I am sure you have in Mucu-Tone a wonderful remedy for this condition.

Everyone notices the change in me and compliments me on my good health. 'Grateful for your helpful and healing medicine, I remain, etc.'

Mrs. R. T. Brockette

215 West 116th St., New York City."

How is it that Rexall Mucu-Tone, a catarrh cure, accomplishes this? Simply because it is a catarrhal condition of the mucous membranes of the body that is responsible for nine out of ten cases of "nerves," ill health, weakness, despondency and general debility.

Mucu-Tone corrects these conditions. It works through the blood, driving out the poisons, healing the sore membranes and revitalizing the blood. In addition to this it is the most powerful nutritive tonic known to science.

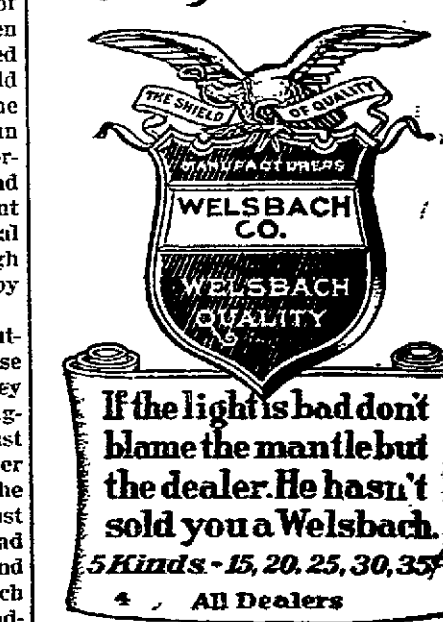

If you are tired, worn out and run down; if your sleep does not rest you and if you feel on the verge of nervous prostration, give Rexall Mucu-Tone a trial. If it doesn't make a new person of you come back and we will refund your money.

Sold only at our store. Price, 50 cents and 89 cents per bottle. Mail order filled.

The coming of gold at the San Francisco mint has broken all records for gold coinage since the use of that metal in coinage. The amount coined in March reached the enormous amount of $23,113,000, or more than $1,000,000 a day. This, with the sum of $21,550,000 coined in February, makes a total of gold coinage for the two months of nearly $55,000,000, or in weight more than 110 tons. Much of this gold arrived in the form of Japanese yen, and was disbursed in paying for war munitions, etc.

The Republicans are evidently determined to try and force an adjournment of Congress this month. In order to do this they will have to defeat or postpone the proposed impeachment proceedings against Judge Swayne and delay the enactment of important legislation. As they are most anxious to escape further Democratic criticism this session they will probably carry out their plan for an early adjournment, but if they imagine that by doing so they will save themselves trouble and make votes they will be sadly mistaken.

Austria and Italy have announced their intentions of properly enforcing the reforms in Macedonia which under the agreement of the powers and the sultan, were committed to their administration. They are to employ gendarmic specially selected for the work of maintaining order and the confident hope is expressed that the work that will be accomplished will prevent any good cause for trouble in the Balkans. It is to be hoped that these bright anticipations will be realized, and that the condition of the unfortunate Macedonians will be vastly improved and a bloody war averted. It is much to be feared, however, that there will be no final peace in the Balkans until the last vestige of Turkish power has disappeared therefrom.

Former United States Senator Pettigrew, one of the Hearst delegates from South Dakota, announces that he will not support Mr. Cleveland should he be named by the Democratic National convention for President, nor any Cleveland follower. This declaration will hurt Mr. Pettigrew and his own special presidential candidate more than it will the Democratic party or its nominee. Pettigrew never was much of a Democrat, and his utterances show that he cares more for his individual predilections and prejudices than he does for the good of the party whose success he pretends to desire. In view of his declaration he ought to decline to attend the Democratic National convention as a delegate and permit a real and patriotic Democrat to take his place.

DARK HORSE

IN CONGRESSIONAL RACE IS SAID TO BE WELLER.

It Now Looks Like Mr. B. G. Dawes, Former Newark Man Will be Nominated.

Samuel A. Weller, the millionaire pottery man of Zanesville, is the dark horse in the Fifteenth district congressional race.

Saturday's primaries throughout the district, while not absolutely decisive, forecasts the probable nomination of Beman C. Dawes of Marietta, formerly of Newark, to succeed Henry Clay Van Voorhis of Zanesville.

For 12 years Muskingum has had the congressman, and George K. Browning of Zanesville has put up a hard fight to succeed Van Voorhis and to continue the leadership in the district.

Advices from the district are that Browning will pull out of the race and transfer his delegates to Weller, but Browning's friends deny the Weller story. It is said at Zanesville that Mr. Weller would refuse the nomination. Weller is thought to be stronger than Browning.

The convention, which takes place at Marietta on Wednesday promises to be as hot a one as any in the state. There was no lack of heat either at the primaries Saturday.

Browning had the best of it in Muskingum county, getting the bulk of the 66 delegates, but a few of them are for Dawes.

In Morgan county the 23 delegates are for the local candidate, C. H. Dunn.

It is claimed 20 of the Morgan delegates will vote with the Dawes men on organization, and are for Dawes for second choice.

In Guernsey county W. H. Gregg got 25 delegates and John Locke 17. There is no chance of Guernsey county's voting solidly. Gregg will deliver a part of his delegates to Browning or Weller, but can't control all of them. Locke's men are for Dawes for second choice.

In Noble county Prosecutor Morris got 21 delegates and Frank Martin 4. The Morris men are favorable to Dawes.

BURTON'S EXCEPTIONS

Bill Will be Filed Tuesday After Government Examines It.

St. Louis, April 4.—The attorneys for United States Attorney J. R. Burton of Kansas, who have been preparing a bill of exceptions to secure a rehearing of their case, submitted it to U. S. District Attorney Dyer and associate counsel representing the Government. Assistant District Attorney Norton said the Government will in all probability have completed its examination of the document by tomorrow. It will then be returned to the defense, who will file it in the United States District Court.

If these motions are denied sentence will be pronounced on Senator Burton. He will then be permitted to give a new bond pending his appeal to the United States District Court of Appeals.

CONCENTRATING ON JUDGE PARKER

Washington, April 4.—The tendency of Southern Democrats to concentrate on Judge Parker as the most available man for the Democratic nomination for the presidency is becoming daily more marked, as it is seen to be practically certain that the Democrats of New York will present the judge as the choice of the party in the Empire State. The Virginia Democrats in Congress, who, up to the present, have been favorable to Gorman now see that the Maryland leader is out of the running. The nine Democratic members of the House from the Old Dominion today also Senators Daniel and Marlin, announced their purpose to work for Parker from this time forward. This action will no doubt have decisive influence on other Southern States that are still doubtful.

Louisville, April 4.—On top of the news from Washington that Senators McCreary and Blackburn have come out for Parker comes the announcement that Parker clubs are to be organized all over the State. That will probably result in offsetting all that has been done in Hearst's interest, and will prevent instructions for Hearst in the State convention.

The first Parker club will be organized in Frankfort tonight. This will be followed by clubs here and in Lexington and Owensboro.

New York, April 4.—Col. William J. Bryan Saturday defined his attitude toward Democratic presidential candidates as one of "armed neutrality." He did not pursue the metaphor any further, but he indicated plainly, by word and manner, that his neutrality was of the kind that is easily converted into belligerency.

Colonel Bryan protested that he had been misrepresented as favoring one presidential candidate. He was interviewed at the Hotel Victoria and Saturday read the interview in some of the morning papers he became, as the politicians say, very "sore." When Mr. Bryan was seen early in the day he was still in that sensitive condition.

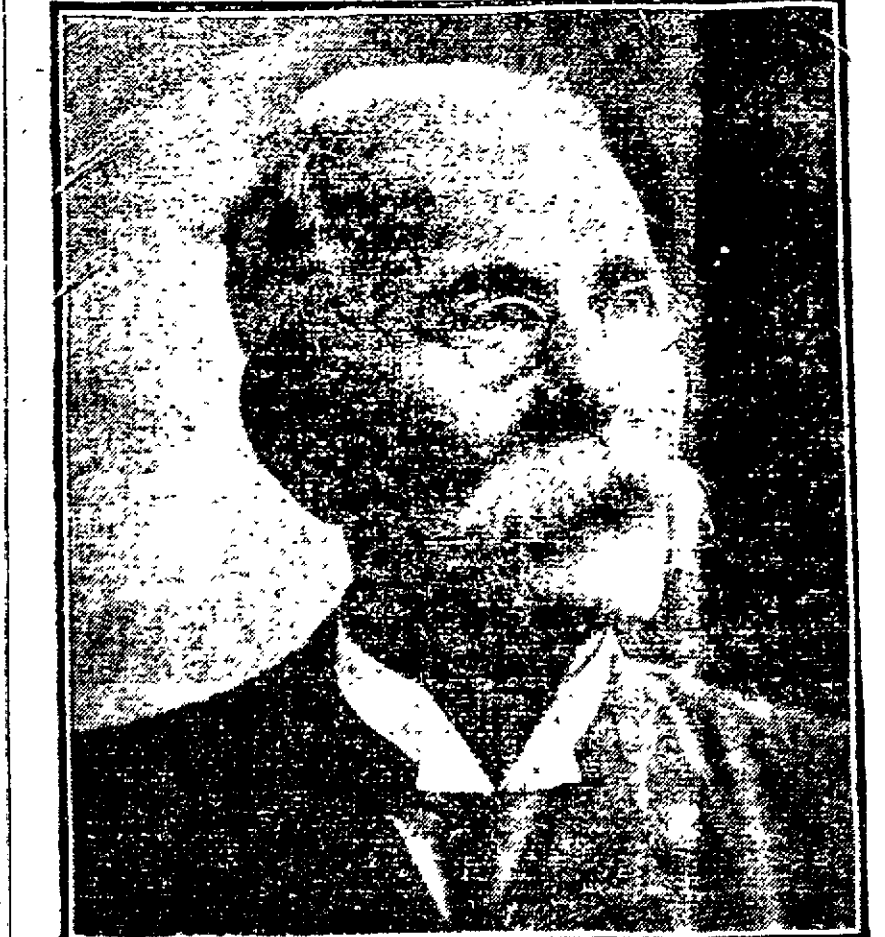

"I have been misquoted, and my position has been misrepresented. I am not going to talk for publication any more," he said. And nothing more would he say.

Later in the day he appeared to have entirely recovered his good humor.

"I haven't anything to say," he said, "and I am in a great hurry. I had made up my mind not to talk today, for what I said was twisted about so as to mean what I did not intend to say."

"Was the statement that you do not consider New York the pivotal State, incorrect?"

"No, there was nothing the matter with that. What I said on that point was correctly reported, but I have taken especial pains to make it appear that my attitude toward candidates is one of neutrality. I may de-

CONFERENCE

OF OHIO COLLEGE Y. M. C. A. MEN AT GRANVILLE

Came to a Successful Close Sunday Night—Prominent Men Conducted Services on Sunday.

Granville, O., April 4.—The College Y. M. C. A. Presidents' Conference, which has been in session here since last Thursday evening, closed on Sunday night. A general feeling of satisfaction prevailed among the delegates in regard to the success of the conference. Much light was thrown on many difficult association problems, many plans and suggestions were given, which, when put into practice, will mean much for the various associations.

Among the colleges represented were Wooster, Heidelberg, Hiram, Ohio Wesleyan, Mt. Union, Defiance, Ohio State University, Adelbert, Oberlin, German Wallace, Homeopathic Medical, Ohio Medical University, Otterbein, Miami, Wittenberg, Ashland, Ada, Findlay, Marietta, Ohio University, Muskingum, and Wilberforce. All of these were represented by the presidents of the College Association, together with one or more of the key men of the association.

Saturday morning session opened with devotional exercises by Secretary Dillon of Illinois. The work of the Lake Erie student conference was then presented by Mr. Williams Jr., of New York City. He showed the various associations the importance of having large delegations at this conference, and also called attention to some new features in this year's program. The work for the new students was clearly outlined and ably discussed by Secretary Dillon. J. S. West, ex-president of the Denison association, presented the work of the social committee.

On account of the lateness of the trains, Mr. Cooper failed to reach Granville in time to present the Bible study work in the afternoon, as had been planned, and the financial management of the association was taken up by Secretary Elmes, of Delaware. He showed very clearly the importance and need of, this work, emphasized the value of the budget and presented various methods and means of securing money. He called attention to the fact that the work of the finance committee was a divine work and should be prompted and backed by earnest prayer.

Mr. Clayton S. Cooper of New York City, chairman of the international committee of Bible study, and no doubt the best authority on this work in the country, presented the work of the Bible Study department. He laid down and emphasized four fundamental characteristics for this work, and his talk was very beneficial and highly appreciated.

The meetings on Sunday were of a devotional character. The first one was held at 8:30 a. m., the regular Y. M. C. A. hour at Denison. This meeting was led by I. E. Giel, president of the Denison Y. M. C. A., and addressed by Mr. Cooper. The convention sermon was preached at 10 o'clock by Dr. C. J. Baldwin. The afternoon meeting was held in Recital Hall. Mr. Cooper called attention to the Buffalo convention to be held in May. Mr. Dannenberg, traveling secretary of the volunteer movement then presented the topic, "The Responsibility of the Christian Student for the Evangelization of the World." At this meeting certificates were granted to the Denison men who had completed the course in mission study. Twenty-seven men received certificates. The Shepherdson quartet rendered two selections at this meeting, which were highly appreciated by all.

The evening session consisted of an address by Mr. Cooper on the topic, "Giving Jesus the Lordship of Our Lives," and another by Mr. Shines on "Prayer, Its Place and Power in Life and Service." The value and importance of these addresses can scarcely be estimated. After twenty minutes of earnest prayer together the conference adjourned.

It is believed that the influence and power of this conference will result in great good for the cause of Christ throughout this state. Nearly all the delegates have returned to their respective homes.

MEXICAN VETERAN DEAD

Jacob H. Scott Who for Nearly Nineteen Years Worked Without Missing Even a Half Day Died Sunday--Adams Express Employee for Nearly a Half Century--Burial Tuesday.

Jacob H. Scott, the veteran Mexican soldier and faithful employee of the Adams Express company, who was known to almost every citizen of Newark, who has lived in the city during the past few years, died at 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning, at his home in Canal street, between Fifth and Sixth, as a result of a stroke of paralysis sustained on March 4 last, from which he never rallied, but grew gradually weaker until his death.

The deceased leaves five daughters and two sons, his wife having died about 25 years ago. The children are Mrs. Nora Ruple, Mrs. Emma Keeran, Miss Mary Scott, Katherine Scott, George W. Scott and Charles F. Scott, all of Columbus, Mrs. Martha Sessor and Mrs. Minerva Marrell of Newark.

Mr. Henry Baker, the well known blacksmith and councilman at large, is a half brother of the deceased.

The funeral will take place from the late home at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Rev. L. C. Sparks conducting the services. Interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Jacob Henry Scott was born in Thornport in 1824, being nearly 78 years of age at the time of his death.

He spent his early life as an employee along the canal as a boatman, coming to Newark nearly 50 years ago. Practically all of this time he has been an employee of the Adams Express company, the last seven years having been retired on a pension, with only the lighter duties connected with the position.

His fidelity to duty and untiring devotion to the express company will ever be remembered of "Jake" Scott, as he was known all over the city. For 24 years in all kinds of weather under every condition, he was on his wagon, and before he was retired from daylight work, there was no mere familiar sight on the streets of Newark. Continuously for a period of 18 years and 11 months he worked without taking even a half day off, on account of sickness. During this period he never missed meeting a train he was supposed to attend. During the time that he worked for the company he has handled incalculable wealth in money alone, which came into his charge in transit. He was thoroughly honest and was implicitly trusted by his employers.

Since going on a pension, Mr. Scott's duties consisted only in meeting the midnight trains, and taking charge of the express packages consigned to the Newark office, and he was faithful until fatally stricken.

Mr. Scott was a veteran of the Mexican war, and was a member of Company H, Second O. V. I. during that conflict.

HON. S. S. WILLIAMS

Former Grand Master of Ohio Masons, Ex-Member of the State Legislature and Prominent Citizen Died Sunday--Grand Lodge Funeral in Newark Tuesday Afternoon.

Hon. S. Stacker Williams, one of the best known citizens of Newark, and prominent Masons of the United States, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. C. Tansley, at Washington C. H., on Sunday morning, aged 68 years.

Mr. Williams had been in feeble health for several years past resulting from a stroke of paralysis, and complication of diseases caused his death.

every order made and every decision rendered by him received the approval of the grand lodge. He had one of the most extensive and carefully selected Masonic libraries in the United States, to which all the brethren have free access. The Correspondence Reports to the Grand Masonic bodies which he had been writing for many years, take high rank. To his annual address as grand master reference is

HON. S. STACKER WILLIAMS.

He leaves three daughters, Mrs. Tansley, of Washington C. H., Mrs. E. M. East, Miss Minnie Williams of Newark, and son Dr. Anderson Williams of Baltimore Md.

Mr. Williams was a 33d degree Mason, past Grand Master of Ohio, former member of the Ohio legislature, and one of Newark's most prominent men.

Samuel Stacker Williams was a son of the late David Williams, who was born in Wales in 1804, and who came with his father, Deacon William Williams to America in 1820. His mother was Mahala Squire, of English ancestry, whose grandfather fought in the cause of American liberty in the War of the Revolution. He was born near Dover, Tenn., on March 26, 1836 but while quite young was brought to Ohio. With the exception of a few years spent in Seoto county this state, and in Kentucky, the home of Mr. Williams has been, as it is now, in Licking county. His early education was acquired in the common schools of the time and at the Granville Academy under the tutelage of Rollin Sawyer.

At the age of eighteen he taught a country school and before he was twenty-one he was superintendent of the graded schools of Hanging Rock, this state. Having been brought up on a farm he, after giving up the purpose of teaching, returned to the country and engaged in the business of stock breeding and in buying and selling. These pursuits becoming less lucrative after the close of the Civil war, he connected himself with the business of jobbing dry goods in New York, which he prosecuted from 1865 to 1885 with success. Since the latter date he led so far as business was concerned, a retired life, except that he contributed to the literature of Free Masonry. For a third of a century he was prominent as a Free Mason, having presided over Lodge Chapter, Council and Commandery, as well as over the Grand Lodge of Ohio from 1885 to 1888.

After entering the Grand Lodge he served as special lecturer for the appointment of different grand masters almost continuously for a number of a century. He also served as grand grand master, and as deputy grand master, and in 1897 was elected grand master of Masons of the state of Ohio, holding the position for three consecutive years. His administration covered a most successful period. His promptness and business of his actions caused him to be characterized as the Andrew Jackson of the Masonic fraternity. Every official act done frequently made in terms of great praise. They are readily understood as they are written in his characteristic brusque Welsh style. Through this thorough knowledge of Masonic law and usage he was enabled to decide promptly all questions submitted to him. In the exercise of his functions he was influenced by the dictates of right and best interests of the order favors and personal popularity never found even secondary consideration at his hands.

Mr. Williams was an honorary member of a number of grand and subordinate bodies, and the representative near the corresponding grand bodies in his own state from the grand lodges of Florida and the new South Wales since 1887, and held the first commission of the kind ever issued by the grand chapter of New Zealand. He was grand representative of the Grand Commandery of Texas for a number of years. At the World's Masonic Congress held in Chicago in 1891 he was vice president. Since 1892 he was president of the Ohio Masonic Veterans Association, and also of the same institution for the United States. He was for a number of years making a collection of Masonic books. These amount to over four thousand volumes. This entire lot he donated to the grand lodge. He was mainly instrumental in the organization of the Masonic Collectors' Association in 1894, and which is still in a flourishing condition.

Mr. Williams was married near Edinville, Kentucky, on May 18, 1858, to Miss Elizabeth Caelburn. She died September 6, 1889, having been to him all that a pure Christian wife could be. The fruits of their marriage were one son and three daughters. He installed the officers of his lodge, Center Star No. 11 at Granville for thirty years without a miss.

A few years ago when sickness prevented him Williams from going to Granville to perform the work pleasing and delightful to him, he had the entire list of officers visited him at his home in Newark and insisted upon his installing them in his parlors.

His Political Career.

The political career of Hon. S. Stacker Williams may be said to have been very brief, from the standpoint of achievement, although vigorously devoted to the genuine principles of Republicanism and Liberty. In 1869, all efforts failed to induce him to accept a political office and he declined the campaign of 1871, when he consented to allow his name to go before the people as a candidate for membership in the 72d General Assembly. He was elected by a plurality of 362 votes and was again elected to the 73d General Assembly.

His legislative career was marked by conscientious and intelligent effort for the benefit of his constituency, and he made in every respect a good representative.

The Funeral Tuesday.

The remains of Hon. S. S. Williams will arrive in Newark Tuesday afternoon at 12:25 o'clock and will be met by a delegation of Masons. From the depot the body will be taken directly to the First Presbyterian church, where it will lie in state under a Knight Templar guard of honor, until the hour for the funeral, at 2 o'clock.

The Masonic ceremonies will be conducted by the officers of the Grand Lodge of Ohio, while the religious services will be conducted by Prof. C. L. Williams, D. D. of Granville and Rev. L. S. Boyce of the First Presbyterian church.

The central unit of the Masonic funeral procession will be Center Star Lodge of Granville, of which Mr. Williams was a member, while the Masonic bodies of Newark and other places will also attend as representative bodies.

St. Luke's Commandery K. T., will act as an escort to the lodges.

The interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

There is no institution in the city more worthy of support than the City Hospital. Show your good will by crowding Taylor Hall tomorrow night at the entertainment given under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

YARDMASTER C. C. FARABEE WILL STAY IN ZANESVILLE.

Comparative Statement of T. & O. C. Earnings—What is Going on in the Railway World.

Yardmaster C. C. Farabee of the B. & O. railroad will remain in Zanesville as such. This is contrary to the plans lately proposed but is considered the best move by the officials of the road. Because of the strain of the work in Zanesville and the long and attentive hours necessary Mr. Farabee tendered his resignation. He contemplated returning to his old position of railway engineer. The services of Mr. Farabee have been more than satisfactory and the company has advanced propositions that Mr. Farabee has decided to accept. He will remain in the local field permanently. — Monday's Zanesville Times-Recorder.

T. & O. C. Earnings.

The following is a comparative statement of the earnings of the T. & O. C. division of the Ohio Central lines for the third week of March: 1904, $64,080; 1903, $59,695; increase $4,385.

The Frisco's New President.

A. J. Davidson who succeeds B. F. Yoakum as president of the St. Louis and San Francisco, is now general superintendent of that company with headquarters at Springfield, Mo. He commenced railroad service in 1880 as station baggage agent of the Chicago & Alton at Lexington, Ill.

New Rock Island President.

Mr. Winchell, who tomorrow succeeds William B. Leeds as President of the Rock Island, commenced his railroad career in 1873 as a clerk in the office of the Superintendent of Machinery of the Hannibal and St. Joseph road. Not long ago he was appointed to his present position of Third Vice President of the Rock Island in charge of the property.

Rogers Locomotive Works.

Paterson, N. J., April 4—(Bulletin)—The American Locomotive company has obtained control of the Rogers locomotive works, one of the largest independent concerns in the country. While no definite announcement has been made, it is believed that the Rogers plant will be closed and that all uncompleted work will be finished at the Cooke works here or at the other American plants at Schenectady or Dunkirk.

B. & O. Callers' Ball.

Everything is now in readiness for the grand ball to be given at Brennan's Hall this evening by the B. & O. callers, and the indications are that there will be a large crowd in attendance, as many tickets have been disposed of. The music for the occasion will be furnished by Marsh's orchestra.

Railway Brevities.

The work of repairing the washouts and strengthening the bridge at Belleville, on the Lake Erie division of the B. & O. railroad, was completed on Sunday noon, and trains have been running regularly ever since. Train No. 7 was the first through train to get through.

Engineer J. C. Cline who has been suffering with neuralgia of the face for some days, has recovered and has returned to work.

Wm. Pool, a mail clerk of Cincinnati, was in the city on Monday. His run is between Cincinnati and Newark, and he is here four times a week.

Conductor C. H. Haslop is unable to work on account of an injured ankle. John Sullivan a well known B. & O. molder, spent Sunday with friends in Zanesville.

Logan Norman, a helper in the B. & O. shops, is unable to work on account of an injured finger.

Joseph Fuller, foreman in the B. & O. brass shop, spent Easter Sunday with friends in Columbus.

C. B. Shimmel an employe of the shops, who has been unable to work for the past month on account of sickness, has recovered and has been marked up for service.

B. & O. Yard Foreman W. J. Cook, of Shawnee, spent Sunday with friends in Newark.

J. H. Deininger, a B. & O. switch tender, who has been off duty for some time, suffering with a lame back, has recovered and will return to work to-night.

F. G. Hummel of 111 German street, left on B. & O. No. 144 Sunday to accept a position on the Pittsburgh division of the B. & O.

R. P. Dayton an apprentice in the shops, who has been suffering with measles for some time, has recovered and returned to work.

C. L. Bausch has accepted a position as brakeman on the Pittsburgh division of the B. & O.

Albert Rushley, a helper in the shops, who had the misfortune to wash one of his fingers a few days ago has recovered from his injury and has been marked up for service.

FIREMAN

Killed Big Blacksnake Which Had Just Taken a Dozen Guinea Eggs From a Nest

A good snake story is being told by B. & O. Fireman Edward Woolard. Mr. Woolard says that while his engine was at Zanesville a few days ago he saw a large blacksnake hanging from a limb of a tree. The snake was reaching down into a guinea's nest and was engaged in sucking the eggs. Mr. Woolard says he killed the snake and then made an investigation. He found that the snake had sucked the fruit from an even dozen eggs. There was a small hole in each egg, while the balance of the shell remained undisturbed.

OLD FOLKS TESTIFY.

VINOL WORTH $1000 TO A. J. BAKER.

The Aged, and All Sons and Daughters of Aged People in Newark Should be Interested.

Mr. A. J. Baker of 713 Locust street Evansville, Ind., writes: "I could believe there is no other medicine equal to Vinol for elderly people. I would not take $1000 for the good it has done me. It makes strength for the aged as no other medicine seems to do, and invigorates the whole system. Vinol was first recommended to me for a bad cough, which I could not seem to get rid of. Vinol not only cured my cough, but it made me strong and well, and I enthusiastically endorse Vinol."

Mr. Frank D. Hall, our well known druggist, when interviewed in regard to this matter, said: "We have never sold in our store such a wonderful vitalizer and strength maker for the aged as Vinol; it is nature's remedy for the sick, the weak and the aged. Vinol owes its virtue and great medicinal power to the fact that it contains in a highly concentrated form all the active curative properties of cod liver oil, without a drop of the nauseating grease which characterizes old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions."

"Vinol acts first upon the stomach, toning it up, and enabling it to obtain from the food eaten the elements needed for rich, red blood, healthy body material and sound, steady nerves. In this way it repairs worn tissues, checks the natural decline of the aged and never fails to replace weakness with strength."

"In the strongest manner we unhesitatingly endorse and guarantee Vinol to increase the appetite, cure stomach troubles, give strength and renewed vitality to the aged, build up the run down, tired and debilitated make the weak strong, cure chronic coughs, colds and build up the convalescent or I will return to the purchaser every dollar paid for it." Frank D. Hall.

This seemed a strong statement for a reliable druggist to make, and we think every person in Newark ought to take advantage of Mr. Hall's offer, as of course, he has a very wide knowledge of medicines, and what they will, or will not accomplish.—Editor.

Her Chapter of Proposals

By Hattie Preston Rider

Copyright, 1903, by T. C. McClure

Miriam came into the library and sat down opposite Graham. There was a pucker of anxiety on her forehead.

"Bart," she said, "would you mind
being engaged to me?"

Graham took his feet off the window
sill and sat up.

"Engaged?" he repeated dubiously.
Miriam nodded.

"It's only for a couple of days," she hastened to reassure him. "Mr. Forsythe is coming to propose, and I'm at my wits' end. I haven't a single excuse for refusing him. He's good and wealthy and nice-looking. Mother won't hear an objection, even his age. So, you see, the only way is to let him understand ever so delicately that I'm met at table, as a seaman does his barometer in squally weather. Though that lady's bland cordiality to himself was marked, the two tiny lines of anxiety between her brows became a beacon of hope to him, for Graham knew Forsythe had aimed, and that could not put out of mind, that parting speech of Miriam's. His growing fears, for disinterested ones, were acute indeed.

On the morning of the third day,
from the vantage point of his own
window, he saw the suitor depart.
There was a rosebud in the lapel of his faultless coat. As he got into the autobus Graham caught a glimpse of his face. His own promptly fell. As if that were not sufficient, on going out directly after, he met Miriam's mother in the hall. The pretty widow's checks were flushed like a girl's,
and, it seemed to him, there was a guilty look in her eyes. She gave him a smile that relaxed not a whit of his sweetness at the savage tone of his
"Good morning." This last confirmed his worst forebodings. He decided that between the two they had succeeded in coercing Miriam to their wishes.

It took Graham the whole of his forenoon's tramping to perfect his plan of action. He blamed himself bitterly that he had played the miser in refusing Miriam's request, foolish and cowardly as it had seemed to him then.
But from the very fact of it he felt justified now in taking a bold hand.

He went back to the house and sent
a peremptory note to the young lady.
He wished to see her once more and at her earliest convenience. He thought their former close friendship gave him
the privilege.

He was hardly prepared for the flushed cheeks and defiant eyes that greeted him. Nevertheless he resolved to stick manfully to his role of protector.

"If it came to this, Miriam," he burst forth, "I think you might have trusted
me to help you out for all I refused the other day. I would have done anything but what you asked, even to shooting him," savagely.

Miriam's nervous color deepened.

"I don't see how any one could have helped it except mother," she stammered.

"I could, and I intend to yet," he retorted grimly. He came a step nearer.

"I tell you, child, you shall not be forced into this marriage against your will. I have some right as—your nearest friend, and I shall remonstrate with your mother. That failing,
I shall go to Forsythe himself and tell him the truth, since you dare not. He is an honorable man, and he will release you."

Miriam bucked away from him and
hid her face in her hands.

"Oh, Bart!" she cried between hysterical sobs and laughter. "What in the world are you talking about?"

"You shall not marry Forsythe against your will," he insisted. Then,
to his astonishment, Miriam uncovered
her face and burst into a ringing laugh
of sheer relief.

"It was mother, not I, to whom he proposed," she said. "It was just her silly blunder, the blessed goose! She never told me they were engaged years ago. And I acted such a guy before you. I fretted myself sick about it.
But, meeting his eyes with unwonted
and bewildering shyness, 'if he had asked me, Bart, I should have told him
the truth. I've resolved to be as honest as the day hereafter.'"

Graham's head swam in the great light breaking on him. Impulsively he strode forward and took both her hands.

"Miriam, be honest with me, then, as I am with you. I've loved you all the while I was pretending friendship, and when I thought another man was winning you I was beside myself with misery. Tell me, little chum, could you love me in that 'other way'?"

The flushed face was instantly buried against his sleeve. Graham was promptly uncerthied it and forced his silly eyes to meet his again. What he saw there only he knows, but it proved to him beyond a doubt that Miriam's
impersonal friendship was as preposterous a fraud as his own.

A Vegetable Pepsin.

The useful properties of the papay
plant have long been known to the various natives and have been taken advantage of by them, as can be seen by reference to the works of travelers, who can themselves vouch for the accuracy of the accounts they narrate.
Thus Iruary in "The Useful Plants of India" states that old boxes and poultry which are fed upon the leaves and fruit, however tough the meat they afford might otherwise be, are thus rendered perfectly tender and good for eating as soon as killed. Browne, too, in his "Natural History of Jamaica" says that meat becomes tender after being washed with water to which the juice
of the papaya tree has been added, and if left in such water ten minutes it will fall from the spit while roasting or separate into shreds while boiling.—

A Great Player.

Many good stories are told of Sir Walter Parratt, the master of the king's music. Here is one illustrative of his extraordinary memory: Some evening
ten men were assembled one night in one of the lodges attached to St. Michael's college, Trinity. Sir Walter Parratt and Herr von Helld played in turn on the piano such music as was asked for. This went on for some time, until at last the chessboard was brought out. Sir Walter then proposed to play two men at chess in consultation with two men at chess in consultation still remaining at the piano and playing from memory what was demanded either from Bach, Beethoven, Mozart, Chopin or Mendelssohn. Without even a glance at the chess-board he won the game in an hour.—London

THE "KATY" TO THE FRONT.

Will Reserve Rooms for World's Fair Visitors.

The passenger department of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway has made a move of much interest and value to its patrons who desire to visit
St. Louis during the World's Fair. It has established a bureau to supply the wants of visitors in the way of rooming accommodations. It has secured option to several thousand furnished rooms in St. Louis hotels and first-class private residences. All are inspected by a representative of the bureau None but clean, first-class rooms in most desirable districts are accepted.

The M. K. & T. ticket agent at each city and station on its line are prepared to secure reservations in advance. "Katy" ticket agents will explain the plan. This arrangement no doubt will prove popular.

Those desiring accommodations
should apply as far in advance as possible, as it will be difficult to reserve
rooms on short notice.

An office of the bureau will be maintained near the Union station, St.
Louis, at which quarters an efficient

corps of clerks and uniformed messengers will be on hand to direct visitors to their rooms. The bureau will be prepared to furnish guides, chaperones,
messengers, also cabs and automobiles
to carry visitors to their quarters and express service for the transfer of baggage at reasonable rates. This will be recognized at once to be of special value to strangers and ladies without escorts.

"Katy's" ticket agents will be glad to give full information or you may write to George Morton, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, M. K. & T.
Ry., St. Louis.

Y. M. C. A. NEWS

JUNIORS WILL ON TUESDAY GO TO COLUMBUS.

Splendid Easter Service in Taylor Hall
—Dr. Duvall Speaks—The New
Spring Schedule

A party of about 30 boys from the Junior Department of the Y. M. C. A.
is going on an excursion to Columbus
Tuesday, April 5.

The excursion is conducted for those boys who have made a certain per cent
in attendance upon the classes the past year—a sort of recognition for merit.

The party will be in charge of Secretaries Ebersole and Graef, and will leave on the 8 o'clock interurban. The Columbus Y. M. C. A., the capitol buildings, the state penitentiary and other places of interest will be visited.

Easter Services

The Easter services for men at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon, was, as advertised, a grand service. Not only was it the largest in point of attendance, but in the excellence of the music and the character of the address.
Subsequent meetings held at the Y.
M. C. A. this year.

Shelley's famous Easter Cantata,
"Death and Life," was exquisitely rendered by the mixed chorus from Denison Conservatory of Music, under the able direction of Miss Jennie E.

Ehman. That was followed by the inspiring Hallelujah chorus from the Messiah.

The address by Dr. Duvall on the "Certainty of a Future Life," was most profound and philosophical and yet exceedingly interesting to all.

The large attendance of men listened attentively, almost eagerly to him
for nearly an hour. Dr. Duvall is certainly a rare man—as a religious instructor he is in a class by himself.
The association can always be sure of a large attendance when it announces
him for an address.

New Spring Schedule.

The spring schedule of classes in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium went into effect Monday. Special attention is called to the new members' class,
which will organize Tuesday evening
and meet hereafter every Tuesday and Friday evening at 7:30. All men who have recently joined the Y. M. C. A.
and who have not yet entered a class,
are urged to attend this one.

The schedule is as follows:

Business men, Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 5.

Intermediates and Seniors, Monday,
Thursday and Saturday at 7:30.

New members, Tuesday and Friday
at 7:30.

Juniors, Tuesday at 3:30, Saturday
at 5:30.

Boys, Thursday at 3:30, Saturday at 10:30.

MT. VERNON MEN

ARE COMING TO NEWARK NEXT
WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Elks' Minstrels—Nonagenarian's Funeral—Mt. Vernon-Newark Personals—Knox News.

Mt. Vernon, O., April 4.—The M. W.
A. of Newark will initiate a large class of about 60 persons on next Wednesday night. The members of the order in this city expect to attend. All persons desiring to go to Newark are requested to present their names to G.
Hagaman.

Mrs. James Graff has gone to Newark where she will join her husband
and make her future home.

Miss Mary Patterson is visiting in Newark for a few days.

Mr. C. G. Conley went to Newark
to spend Sunday.

The Mt. Vernon Elks' minstrel show will be given Thursday, April 14. The Elks began today to sell tickets and succeeded in disposing of a large number. There will be a number of surprises all during the show, and theatre goers can be assured of an excellent production. The Elks hope to see some of their Newark friends up that night.

Mrs. Nancy J. Jennings who died at the Curtis homestead after a short illness with grip at the age of 92, was buried today in Mount View cemetery,
Rev. E. O. Mead officiating. Mrs. Jennings is survived by the following children: Charles Jennings of Sandusky, Henry W. Jennings, John Jennings, Mrs. C. R. S. Curtis, Mrs. S. P.
Curtis, Mrs. J. G. Stevenson, of Mt.
Vernon.

The East Liverpool dispatch in Saturday's Advocate announcing the suspension of the Crisis does not it is believed here, state the situation correctly. It is likely that the suspension of the publication of the Crisis is only temporary, and that the movement is only along the line of reorganization of the company controlling the property.
Allen Fink, formerly of Newark, was editor of the Crisis.

A disordered stomach may cause no end of trouble. When the stomach fails to perform its functions the bowels become deranged, the liver and kidneys congested, causing numerous diseases, the most fatal of which are painless, and, therefore, the more to be dreaded. The important thing is to restore the stomach and liver to a healthy condition, and for this purpose
no better preparation can be used than Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by all druggists.

ZANESVILLE

DR. HUNT OF GRANVILLE SPEAKS
AT Y. M. C. A. MEETING.

Tube Mill May Start—Starkey's Murder—Six Deaths—Browning Wins
Muskingum County

Zanesville, O., April 4.—President E.
W. Hunt of Denison university at Granville, and Geo. L. Budd State Y.
M. C. A. secretary, will be here tonight to attend a meeting for the purpose of organizing a Zanesville Y. M. C. A.
Over 500 men will become charter members. Dr. Hunt of Denison university, is perfectly conversant with the Y. M.
C. A. work throughout the state and he has been asked to come here to make an address before the local gathering. The committee is extending invitations to business men to attend this meeting. Secretary Budd will speak to the latter especially.

The remains of Mrs. Daniel Tatter-wall who died in Newark will arrive here Tuesday for burial. Services will be held in St. Thomas Catholic church.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Monkhouse, of Newark, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Morrison, of Hughes street.

It is said by the officials that the gun which killed Edward Starkey
could not have been discharged accidentally. No reward has yet been offered for the arrest of Starkey's mur-derer.

Geo. K. Browning has 62 out of the 66 delegates from Muskingum county to the Marietta congressional convention which meets Wednesday.

It is now more than probable that the plant of the Eastern Tube company, recently purchased for $170,000
by the Mark Manufacturing company,
of Chicago, will remain in this city
and be operated.

Mrs. Henry C. Knoedler, aged 65,
died Saturday afternoon at the family home on South Sixth street. Burial Tuesday.

F. P. Winn of Adamsville, has received notice of the death of his brother,
H. S. Winn, in Nebraska.

Mrs. Margaret Darn, 31, died Sunday
in Springfield township.

Miss Effie Pierce, 78, died Sunday at the home of her nephew, Edw. Pierce, at Chandlersville.

Wm. Bartholomew and Miss Ollie
Leasure were married Easter day.

Mrs. Lulu Shiffey, 39, died Sunday.

Mrs. Robert C. Scott, 45, died Saturday night of heart trouble at 240 Van Buren street.

WM. BROWN

Luray Wagon Maker Who Started
West for Benefit of His Health,
Died in Missouri

Hebron, O., April 4.—Wm. Brown, the wagon maker at Luray, and a very prominent member of the Hebron
Lodge of Odd Fellows, died last week
at the home of a relative in Bloomfield,
Mo. Mr. Brown started for New Mexico owing to ill health, but after reaching Bloomfield, was unable to go farther. Mrs. Nelson, an aunt of the deceased accompanied the remains to Newark, the body arriving this morning. Burial is to be made in Cedar Hill cemetery at Newark.

Little Girl Very Ill.

Hebron, O., April 4.—Dorothy Kramer, the bright little seven years old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. M. Kramer, is seriously ill here with a complication of disorders. Dr. Kramer has called several physicians from other places in consultation.

NOTICE TO ASSESSORS.

The assessors who were elected in April, 1903, in the various townships
and wards in Licking county are requested to meet at the County Auditor's office at 10 o'clock a. m. on the eleventh day of April, 1904, to receive instructions and supplies.

By the operation of the Chapman law, assessors who were elected last year are continued in office this year
and are not required to give a new bond. Where vacancies occur appointment must be made by the township trustees.

EASTER

SERVICES ATTENDED BY MANY PEOPLE SUNDAY

Weather Would Have Been Ideal for a Winter Festival—Few Spring
Gowns Were Seen

The weather conditions in Newark
Sunday were more nearly those of an ideal winter festival than of Easter,
and yet the various churches were well attended and in all there were especial services prepared.

The floral decorations were in many cases elaborate, and in every church
the arrangement of the decorations
was appropriate and tasteful.

The themes of the discourses in all the churches bore some relation to the resurrection of Christ, in commemoration of which the glad Easter festival
is celebrated, while the musical programs had been prepared with the idea of furnishing bright Easter anthem. The day was one that forestalled the wearing of new spring
clothing, and Easter gowns, but no one was heard to grumble, and this did much to make the day more bright and cheerful.

Special ceremonial services were held in the liturgical churches, Catholic, Lutheran and Episcopal, while in the others the special significance of the day was commemorated in sermon
and music.

NORTH END

Fire Department is Now in Commission and is Ready for the Fire Gong.

The new North End fire department
to be known as Fire Station No. 4, located on North Fourth street, was put in commission Monday and from now
on will answer all fire alarms sent in.
The hose and other equipment were taken up and put on the combination wagon Monday afternoon.

For a little time, until everything gets to running with absolute precision, the Central fire department will respond, just as heretofore, but after things get in shape only the ladder
wagon will go from the Central station.

WRESTLING

Jack Newhart Won the Match From
Richard Shultz at Palm Garden
Saturday Night.

Jack Newhart won the wrestling
match at the Palm Garden Saturday night, from Richard Shultz of Chicago,
gaining two out of three falls, before
a good sized crowd of spectators.

Both men weighed 148 pounds and were very evenly matched. Newhart won the first fall in 20 minutes and 30 seconds, and third in about 18 minutes, Shultz getting the second in a little over 15 minutes.

Shultz challenged Newhart to another match and the winner received a challenge from Young Muldoon of Louisville, Ky., which will probably be accepted.

Ben Harrison Stock.

Chesaw, Wash., March 28, '04.

Dr. I. H. Ross, Newark, O.

Dear Sir: I arrived safely in Ches-
aw Sunday evening on horseback from Greenwood, B. C. There is lots of snow here yet, nevertheless I believe it is a fine country. I was in the Ben Harrison mine today and am well pleased—so well pleased that if Ben Harrison stock is selling at ten (10)
cents yet, please hold two thousand (2,000) shares more for me, and I will settle up for it when I return, if that will be satisfactory. From personal observation I believe this is going to be a great mining country, and those that put their money into good properties with a good management need never be afraid of losing.

Yours truly,

ACHINESE BUTCHERED BY DUTCH IN SUMATRA

Amsterdam, April 4.—A dispatch to the Telegram from Kooraja, island of Sumatra, announces that a column of Dutch troops operating in Achin,
North Sumatra, engaged a strong, entrenched body of Achinese in the Gajocloeas district, with the result that that 541 Achinese were killed.
The Dutch lost three men killed and had 25 men wounded.

GYPSY CAMP

IS NOW LOCATED IN WEST END,
NEAR THE PARK.

A Clean and Attractive Camp—Horse
Dealing and Fortune Telling Occupy Gypsies' Attention.

A gypsy camp which is entirely out of accord with the usual gypsy camps
is located at the end of Riley street in the rear of Idlewild park. The gypsies are educated, the horses are of excellent appearance and the entire camp presents the spectacle of unexpected cleanliness and neatness. During the winter months their nomadic habits of life are abandoned and winter quarters are established. The children are sent to school and are as highly advanced in education as other children of their age.

The tents are furnished with a view
to attractiveness as well as convenience. Horse dealing is the principal vocation of the men while the female
members of the tribe devote their time to fortune telling.

Gun Club Shoot.

The weekly shoot of the Jewett
gun club at the Licking Gun Club
ground in West Newark, took place
Saturday afternoon. Messrs. Zindorf

to say with any certainty that he will recover, all things now point that way.

GRANVILLE NOTES

Granville, O., April 4.—Mrs. Watson entertained very charmingly the young ladies of the Kappa Phi and Chi Psi Sororities on Saturday afternoon, in honor of her guests, the Misses Whitehead and Watson of Virginia. In the receiving line were Mrs.
Wesson, Miss Whitehead, Miss Watson, Miss Florence Parrish and Miss Elizabeth Thornton. In the dining room tea was poured by the Misses Helen case and Elsie Husted, Mrs.
Willis Chamberlin assisting.

Miss Louise Jones of National Park
Seminary, is visiting her Chi Psi Delta sisters here.

Miss Soter of Oberlin, is the guest of Miss Ellen Ransom, of Case College, Shepardsburg college.

Easter services were held in all the churches of the village on Sunday.
The churches were beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants
for the occasion, and special music was furnished for the occasion. The sermons were of the kind that usually mark the observance of the Easter tide, and were eloquent and impressive.
